Gifts from your IRA (QCDs)

If you are 70 ½ or older, giving from your IRA is a smart option. Here is some basic information about this type of gift:

- A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is a tax-free donation from your individual retirement account (IRA) to a qualified charity.
- You must be age 70½ or older to make a qualified charitable distribution.
- A qualified charitable distribution helps you meet your annual withdrawal requirement. By directing the distribution to FareStart, the amount of the gift is not counted in your taxable income.
- You can't deduct a QCD from your taxes, but the savings on your income may still make this kind of donation tax-savvy.
- Qualified charitable distributions allow eligible IRA owners up to $100,000 in tax-free gifts to charity | Internal Revenue Service (irs.gov). Contact your IRA custodian for instructions on how to execute a QCD.
